

An Up Close and Personal Look at Minnesota's Pollinators

Prairie Smoke Annual Meeting

Chatfield Public Library

Sunday February 25th, 2018 at 2:30 PM

Join other Prairie Smoke members and guests to enjoy good food, conversation and a fascinating talk about the unique biology, ecology, and conservation of our native pollinators.

Our speaker, Karin Jokela, is a Xerces Society pollinator conservation planner and partner biologist based in southeast Minnesota. She collaborates with NRCS staff in MN and WI to provide individual consulting to farmers on habitat restoration and pollinator-friendly farm management practices, and serves as an advisor to staff of other conservation agencies. Karin received her MS in ecology at Iowa State University. She and her husband are also organic vegetable farmers in Cannon Falls, MN.
